Customer Problem Statement Template:

Create a problem statement to understand your customer's point of view. The Customer Problem Statement template helps you focus on what matters to create experiences people will love.

To build a platform people will love, we must empathize with our users and understand their core pain points. Below are two distinct Customer Problem Statements representing different types of readers our platform addresses.

Problem Statement 1 (PS-1): The Time-Crunched Avid Reader

- I am: An avid, passionate reader who balances a busy working schedule and values reading diverse book genres.
- I'm trying to: Effortlessly discover new releases, find trusted reviews, and quickly purchase or reserve my next read in just a few clicks.
- But: It takes way too long to find the right book matching my specific taste when navigating cluttered or slow online stores.
- Because: Traditional book platforms often lack robust multi-genre filtering, fast responsiveness, and reliable, personalized recommendation engines.
- Which makes me feel: Overwhelmed, frustrated, and discouraged from spending my limited free time reading.

Problem Statement 2 (PS-2): The On-The-Go Mobile Explorer

- I am: A mobile-first smartphone user who enjoys exploring new book titles and shopping for gifts while commuting or traveling.
- I'm trying to: Browse a vast collection of books and smoothly manage my account, shopping cart, or reservations seamlessly on my smartphone.
- But: I encounter slow loading speeds, broken page layouts, and clunky checkout steps when trying to shop on my phone.
- Because: Many older web platforms are not optimized for tablets and smartphones, lacking a modern, fast, and fully responsive technical architecture like the MERN stack.

- Which makes me feel: Annoyed and disconnected, ultimately causing me to abandon my shopping cart and leave the site without buying.

Problem Statement (PS)	I am (Customer)	I'm trying to	But	Because	Which makes me feel
PS-1	A busy, passionate reader looking for diverse titles.	Quickly discover new releases, read verified reviews, and buy/reserve books in a few clicks.	It takes too much time and effort to find highquality books that match my specific taste.	The website lacks smart filtering tools, fast search capabilities, and personalized recommendation engines.	Overwhelmed and frustrated.
PS-2	An on-thego smartphone user shopping for books and gifts.	Seamlessly browse, check out, or reserve titles anytime, anywhere using my mobile device.	The user interface slows down or breaks, making transactions clumsy and painful.	The system is poorly optimized for mobile screens and lacks a fast, fully responsive modern tech stack.	Annoyed and impatient.
